phase. They are boldly esponsing emancipation. The question was brought up directly in the Missouri Legislature, in the election of Mr. Palm, of St. Louis, as bank director. Mr. Palm is a very wealthy citizen of St. Louis, and possesses excellent tousiness qualities; he is a foreigner by birth and an arowed opponent of slavery. The only objection made to his election was upon the ground of his abolitionism: but, notwithstanding this objection, the Democrats in the Legislature continued to afford him a zealous support and elected him. The Democrats are the legislature continued to afford him a zealous support and elected him. The Democratic organs there, in defending their party of "mea" is strictly either sheer nousense or a ridii. the Democrats in the Legislature continued to the ford him a zealous support and elected him. The beam creation of the people's looking to themselves instead for this action, endeavor to soften the accusation by admitting that Mr. Palm is an emonopositionar and have begun openly to advocate emancipations. They consider the election of Palm under these circumstances an index of public feeling in Missouri in stances an index of public feeling in Missouri in reference to the slavery question. The St. Louis Democrat frankly acknowledges want of MEN. The St. Louis Democrat frankly acknowledges that "the national Democrats voted for an acknowledged emancipationist," and says: "Henceforward a man may be a trusted and an honored national Democrat, although he is an emancipationist; and in the Democrate party a man will be trusted and honored because he is an emancipationist. If the honored because he is an emancipationist. If the doctrine of emancipation he no defect in the national Democrat, it is a virtue in the true Democrat;" and in amnouncing the future policy of that organ the single move receives from the Luited States Treasure.

THE LAST CHARCE.— The Marshal's sale will positively close at the National Hotel to-day. There will be sold splendid blankets, time linen and cotton sheets, bubbers, and pillow slips; comforts and counterpanes: all the splendid chande liers and gas burners; har-room furniture, steam engine, &c., &c.

Sale to commence precisely at 10 o'clock. The ladies are especially invited to attend to-day.

POLICE PROCEDIMO.—Monday, Feb. 9.—We have a quartette to begin with, namely: Joseph Sater, Michael Morris, Robert Marshall, and William Grimsley, who were picked up in an exceedingly drunken condition. Seter was sent to the Workhouse, and the remainder beld to bail.

Six men, James McMullen, Wm. Gilmore, Edw. Hurley, J. D. Perry, and James Meena, had been offending Alice Smith. The front of ber premiers had been tarred, and otherwise offensively decorated. Absence of winesses occasioned a postponement.
